TODAY'S MUSIC ARRANGER

Lisa Galvin is a native Ohioan, Lisa Galvin earned a BME and an MA from Ohio State and retired after 30 years of successful teaching in the Reynoldsburg and Hilliard City School Districts. Galvin has a long and varied career with The Ohio State Marching Band, first as a five-year member and squad leader and later as a Graduate Assistant. She was asked to join the arranging staff in 2008, and was appointed co-associate interim director of the band for the 2014 season. Additionally, Galvin has served as an assistant director of the Alumni Band. Her original wind band, string orchestra and jazz ensemble compositions are published through the C.L. Barnhouse Company. Her music has been featured in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade, the Tournament of Roses Parade (2022), and has been heard in a number of viral YouTube videos. Galvin remains active as a founding member and solo hornist with the Brass Band of Columbus and the Athena Brass Band. She and her husband, Joe, support music education through their Charnette Creations Company.
